

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1852.

The Intelligencer.

HAYES AND WHEELER.

The Weekly Intelligencer

FOR THE

PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN.

Only 2 Cents Per Week to Clubs of 20 or More.

At the request of many Republican friends we have concluded to furnish the WEEKLY INTELLIGENCER for the campaign.

TO CLUBS OF TWENTY OR MORE, SENT TO A SINGLE ADDRESS, FREE OF POSTAGE, AT THE FOLLOWING GREATLY REDUCED PRICE:

From August 31 to Nov. 15, inclusive, (12 weeks) 25 cents per copy for clubs of 20 copies.

This is at the rate of two cents per week per copy, and subscriptions may begin at that rate any time, and to one address.

Clubs of 10 or more and less than 20, to one address, will be furnished at 25 cents per week, or 20 cents per copy for 12 weeks.

To be the greatest service the distribution of this campaign should.

BEING AS ONCE.

Every Partisan should have a club at once. If active Republicans at each Partisan will immediately move in this matter they will accomplish more good than with ten times the amount expended.

Single copies of the WEEKLY INTELLIGENCER will be sent to any address, for any length of time, at the usual rates.

Will our Republican friends please act promptly?

THE DAILY INTELLIGENCER

Might also be used as a campaign paper. It will contain a large amount of political matter, besides all the news of the day. It is a number of the Associated Press, and as such, receives the latest news by telegraph to the hour of publication, from all parts of the world.

The DAILY INTELLIGENCER is sent by mail, postage paid, to any address at the rate of 75c per copy, $7.00 for 3 months, $12.00 for 6 months, $20.00 per year, cash in advance.

Send on your orders.

FLEW & CAMPBELL,

WHEELING, W. VA.

The Grand Turnout Saturday Night.

The Republican demonstration in this city on Saturday night was really something magnificent in its character. The torchlight procession through the streets, from the Market street bridge to the place of meeting in the First Ward, attracted universal attention all along the route, and made an unmistakable impression on all beholders.

As for the meeting at the head of 7th street, it was an immense affair, and altogether surpassed anything that has thus far occurred in the canvass in this city. And what makes the whole demonstration particularly noteworthy is the fact that it was so nearly spontaneous in its get up, having been preceded with about as little puffing and blowing as any demonstration we have ever witnessed in Wheeling. The clubs got it up as a kind of amateur eye opener for the campaign, just to let the Democrats see what they could do without any effort. When all the ward organizations receive their uniforms, and when all the boys set themselves regularly together for a "big thing," we may expect to see a turnout at that will throw even Saturday night's demonstration in the shade.

The interest displayed in the Republican cause in this city from the very outset of the canvass has been unusual. From the very start, immediately on receipt of the nominations made at Cincinnati, the party took hold with a vim that indicated business and that has meant business ever since. The ward meetings have been largely attended on all occasions, even when there were no special attractions, and when there was anything like a loud call to arms the attendance has been unprecedented. Men, women and children have attended these meetings. The number of women at the great gathering Saturday night was a noticeable feature of the meeting. And what was equally noticeable was the quiet respect with which the presence of these mothers, wives and daughters was recognized by so large and so prominent an assemblage. As a friend well observed to us yesterday, it speaks well for the Republican party and for the civilization of our politics when the good plain honest women of our people thus feel at liberty to come out and hear the issues of the day discussed in their midst.

The Republicans of Wheeling and Ohio county have every reason to feel encouraged by the deep interest that is thus manifested in the success of their cause. It is plain that the Tilden tide wave that was supposed to have struck the country with so much force a few weeks ago is losing its force. So far as this community is concerned it is a spent shell. Judging from the news from West Virginia in this morning's paper it has badly played out in that community. The Republicans are greatly enthused over the first engagement between Goff and Mathews. Our gallant chieftain not only holds the prestige he acquired in his brilliant canvass with Col. Ben Wilson two years ago, but adds to it. He is a power before the people. Like Hayes, he has a good square record, and can fight on the aggressive all the time. It is to be hoped that Goff and Mathews will traverse the State together. Thousands of Democrats will thus have a chance to hear important facts that they would never otherwise hear. We hope soon to have them both in Wheeling.

Another significant item in our Western news this morning is the announcement that the Democrat newspaper of that place, the only paper in the county, is coming out for Hayes and Wheeler to-day, and will hereafter support the Republican ticket. This not only assures Lewis county to us beyond reasonable doubt, but will have a potent influence on the surrounding counties. The Lewis county Democracy are badly torn up by internal dissensions. It is difficult to tell the amount of dissatisfaction and demoralization among them since the Phillips convention. The editor of the Democrat expressed himself very plainly in reference to the proceedings of that Convention, and we presume the County convention on Friday last will be commented on in the same manner.

All the indications here and elsewhere in the State are full of encouragement for the Republican cause. We trust that the news we publish this morning will inspire the party in every county in West Virginia to put forth its best efforts to achieve success on the 10th of October.

West Virginia News.—Crop prospects were never better in Ilwaco county.

Even Nicholas county has now a paper.—The Nicholas County Local.

There are 110 witnesses summoned in a single case in Braxton county.

The buckwheat and corn crops of Preston promise a large yield.

The corporation tax in Kingwood is 10 cents on the $100.

Several young men of Kingwood have signed a pledge to abstain from the use of tobacco.

Whooping cough and typhoid fever are epidemic in parts of Monroe and Greenbrier counties.

All the office seekers in Braxton county commence their cards to the public by saying that "at the earnest solicitation of many friends," &c., they have become candidates. All except one, and he puts his case as follows:

"I am now 66 years old, have lived and labored in this country all my life; have always worked for its prosperity; am one of the largest tax-payers in the county and think that I am entitled to the confidence of the people; I hereby announce myself as an Independent candidate for the office of Assessor for the next term."

"The Phillips Standard bids fair to rival the Moundsville National. It says that 'the Taylor County Fair this year bespeaks one of more success than any previous year.'"

The Council of Clarksville refuses to submit to a vote of the citizens the question of subscribing $70,000 to the canal of the Weston and West Fork narrow gauge, mainly because the claims of the project are not promising, $90,000 of the $145,000 required being still lacking.

Joshua Proudfoot, of Barbour county, is a candidate for Assessor, "through the protracted solicitation of numerous friends."

Corn is 65 cents per bushel at Fairmont, oats 25 cents, potatoes 40a50.

According to the Fairmont Index there was a good deal of drunkenness and disorder at the Shinnston camp meeting. One case is particularly noticed, as follows: The case of a "young man lying upon the ground drunk. He was handsome, well dressed, and his looks told that he belonged to a high class in society. He lay stretched out in the broiling sun, and the policeman not having him swung enough in his heart to remove him, went to and fro on the gate. Presently a young girl alighted from a carriage and going up to the prostrate man, fixed him in a comfortable position, and then, taking up a position by his side, she watched over him as tenderly as a mother would her child."

WEST ALEXANDER MADE A FIRST CLASS STATION.—We are glad to hear that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company have made West Alexander a first-class station. It will be a great advantage and convenience to shippers to pay their freight where they receive their goods. We always knew that Squire Bell, the agent at that place, was a first-class man, and we now congratulate him and the patrons of the road on the change from a second to a first-class station. West Alexander is the most important place on the road between Wheeling and Washington, and every facility ought to be extended to the patrons of the road. It is the only station that supports a telegraph office between here and Washington.

THE MANY FRIENDS OF MR. JOHN MORGAN, Sr., will be pained to read the news of his death in this morning's paper. He was one of our oldest and most respected citizens, and had been conspicuously identified with the banking interests of Wheeling for some 40 years. His illness and death came upon him very suddenly. Only a few evenings since he attended a meeting at the Court House and on the occasion seemed not only in the enjoyment of his usual health but also greatly interested in hearing the issues of the day discussed in this canvass. By his untimely death a good citizen has suddenly passed from our midst.

TO THE PEOPLE OF OHIO COUNTY, Editors of the Intelligencer: We are the unfortunate alluded to in the Sunday Leader "where animals in the matter is selfishly and idiotically based on the presumption that if the Elm Grove farm traverses 16th street with its iron-wrought dummy engine it will decrease the value of their property." Again: "To argue that it would cause an advance in their property seems almost a waste of space. And again: 'It is not a malicious spirit, but one of stupidity and blindness.'"

We deem it not impertinent to submit to our fellow citizens, on behalf of the nearly one hundred freeholders and substantial citizens who signed the petition against 'steam power on 16th street' whether the above language is exactly becoming in one who, in the callow years of his youth, has but recently set his feet among us. Do either his statements, his natural abilities, or anything about his surroundings, justify such language, or commend the cause in which it is used? We will not descend to the level of the article from which these extracts are made.

It is in such manner and temper that the cause of this corporation is advocated, even to the appropriation of public funds to private use. As to that $15,000 investment, it has been said before, that talk is cheap, but it takes money to buy land.

Perhaps it may interest some of our readers particularly, that the public generally, to look at chapter 100 of the Acts of the Legislature of 1872-73, entitled "An Act to grant the right of laying a railway track on the bed of the National road, eastward of the City of Wheeling," passed December 15, 1873. This corporation there gets the right to run its track on the bed of the National road and across it where necessary. When their ten-ton engine, or any other one, comes along into the family or other vehicle, especially as the engine of any kind pulls and struggles up a grade, it will be interesting. The only good road in this county, fellow citizens living out of the city, is thus rendered to the grinding corporation of John Street is not alone interested in this matter. That act of the Legislature is a remarkable instance of what first-class cunning can accomplish in a legislative body, and is an unmitigated outrage upon the people of Ohio county. This company's road-bed is free to them wherever they can make it on the pike. They could not run over Fulton hill. By a remarkable coincidence, as soon as the above act was passed, certain articles in the City Council and Board of Commissioners for the Peninsular bridge to be built and to grade McCulloch street. It has been done. They then are to be appropriated to this company. They have got their road-bed free, and the city and county has, we doubt not, maneuvered into building two costly bridges for them, unless our County Commissioners shall deny their petition. So every citizen who pays every $100 of real estate is to be put in the city levy by Council, which would not have been levied if the bridges had not been built. The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses, it is not of the use which is claimed. But it will probably pay its stockholders greater dividends with steam power, and then the city and county and public generally can growl at the oppressive monopoly.

The citizens are not angry, and are not willing to defend this petition. On the contrary, many of the very signers to the petition published last Saturday are stockholders of and subscribers to the road. But it was when the road was not built, and the road really of a tenth part the importance or value its projectors claim it will be built, and run with horse-car or steam power is forbidden. If it will not pay to run it with horses